*“Experiment, and becomes its friend;
and it will teach you all of its wondrous secrets.”*

The Acu-masseur is one of the most unique massage tools on the planet. A chiropractor in Florida claims she can get rid of migraines all of the time with her patients. Massage therapists rave about the points on their shoulders that they can deeply massage by themselves. People in pain or with fibromyalgia are grateful for its existence. Use it like you would yoga. Get into a position with it, and then deeply breathe and/or slowly move your muscles in a stretching motion, or slowly tweek the red balls of the acu-masseurs as they hug and squeeze you. Miracles abound. Enjoy your new friend.

Trapezius muscles, look out !

One of the speakers at a recent Regional Massage Therapy Show spoke at great length on the value of massaging the trapezius muscles. However, to do these points on yourself (in a stress-free way), it is next to impossible. But now you can! (with the Acu-Masseur). There is nothing that can help release the pressure points on the neck & shoulders like the Acu-Masseur. By holding the “golf-like” balls in place, grabbing the trapezius muscles (or the rhomboids), using the string, and then slowly moving the neck in the other direction, and by lifting the chin up and down in that same direction, one can experience minor miracles in stretching. One can also wiggle the front acu-masseur handle across the chest, back and forth (not up & down) to experience other minor miracles in releasing muscle tension.

Great on Quads
(or hamstrings)

The Acu-Masseur also massages and penetrates deeply into the occipitals. It can also perform wonders by massaging the calves, hamstrings, arms, quads, obliques, or down the hips & legs.

Good on Calves
