Hitachi Magic Twin Head Massager

Soft heads, flexible shafts, and a powerful motor make the difference!

Two Heads

Because of the two heads, one can apply massaging action to the front and back of any muscle at the same time. Similarly, you can place your shoulders, arms or legs between the twin heads. This insures a much more efficient massage which a single head massager simply cannot do.

Soft Heads

The Soft heads on the Hitachi Twin Head Masager means you can go across the spine, and it won't hurt like some of the other "imitation twin head massagers" which are cheaper but simply do not feel as good. This makes a big, big difference.

Easy to Hold Design

The shape of the Hitachi Twin Head makes it extremely easy to hold with 2 hands, or with 1 hand. When possible, we recommend using 2 hands. It works more effectively then. When massaging your sacrum, just hold it there for about 2 minutes without moving it. Do the same with your quads, legs, abs, etc. When holding it on the sacrum, you can bend over a tad, and then go up and down your spine. Bending over opens up the crevices, and makes for a more effective massage, and feels absolutely great. The extremely light weight makes it very easy to use by oneself.

Weight: 2.1 lbs.

Flexible Shafts

The blue shafts that hold the heads are another extremly important difference. They bend. This means that you can hug your arm, leg, calf, or any body part. It feels great on the shoulders, on the biceps, triceps, on the sternum, or on the sacrum. Just press firmly. Nothing can hug like the Hitachi Twin Head Massager. Well, OK, lots of people are really good huggers; even pets can hug. So I will correct that last sentence. No inanimate object can hug like the Hitachi twin head massager. Be careful not to fall in love with it though.

Two Powerful Motors

Sometimes We are at a loss to explain why the Hitachi Twin Head massager works so well. There are 2 separate motors, which are powerful and effective. This makes all the difference in the world. Because of this, there is a vibrating action AND a massage action. This is probably why we get literally hundreds of comments from customers who explain to us that they have used dozens of electric massagers, and none feel as good as this one. Also, when you use the Twin Head on someone else, you don't feel any reverberations. The Hitachi Magic Twin Head Massager is very special. It works.
